Threats Against Prosecution In Hamon Case

ARDMORE, OKLA., March 16.—Introduction of testimony in the trial of Clara Hamon, charged with the murder of Jake L. Hamon, was postponed after a brief morning session and court was recessed until 3 p. m. to permit Judge Thomas W. Chapman to prepare his instructions to the jury.

Each side was allotted five hours for arguments, and it was said that if the judge had prepared his charge by the time court reconvenes they will be gotten under way immediately.

The court will charge the jury on three points: Murder, which upon conviction would carry a sentence of death or life imprisonment; first-degree manslaughter, the sentence for which upon conviction would be from four years to life imprisonment; and second-degree manslaughter, with a minimum fine of $1.

S. Prince Freeling, state attorney general, in charge of the prosecution, said that H. B. Brown, special prosecutor, would make the opening argument and that he (Freeling) would then close for the state.

There was much doubt expressed as to whether the court would be ready with his instructions at 3 p. m., and it was thought probable an adjournment until tomorrow morning at 9 a. m. would be taken.

There were numerous reports about the county building this morning of threats made against state counsel and the jurors should a verdict of guilty be returned against Clara Hamon. Sheriff Buck Garrett said, however, that no such reports had reached him, with one exception, that of a letter written to a member of the defense counsel in which a warning was given of possible violence to the defendant should she be acquitted.

H. B. Brown, special prosecutor, said dangerous threats had been made against him, but he would not go into details.

Today's short session of the trial held that and during after the starting development which jilted upon each other in rapid succession yesterday when court was thrown into turmoil by applause of the spectators, heated remarks of counsel, a search for fire arms, and finally the testimony of the defendant herself.

When the court overruled introduction of a number of letters, purported to have been written by Colonel Hamon to the defendant, the defense formally announced that it rested its case and Attorney General Freeling began presentation of his rebuttal testimony. Only five witnesses were introduced, including Erwin C. Daniels, Denison, Texas chauffeur; Sam Blair, Chicago newspaper man, now witness; and Dr. Walter Hardy, Bretel Dunlap and Miss Rosa Cannon, recalled to the stand.

Letters written by Jake L. Hamon to Clara Hamon, on trial charged with the oil millionaire's murder, were ruled inadmissible as evidence today. The defense formally rested after an exception in the court's ruling had been noted, and the state began presentation of rebuttal testimony. Introducing Sam Blair, a newspaper man, who obtained an interview with Clara Hamon at Chihuahua City, Mexico.

Blair said he saw Clara Hamon first on the night of December 18, 1920, and twice later.

LONDON, March 16.—The British government today gave formal approval to the appointment of Colonel George B. M. Harvey as United States ambassador to Great Britain to succeed John W. Davis, who resigned.

$500 Paid For Murder Of Feud Victims

CHICAGO, March 16.—Five hundred dollars was the price paid for the killing of Paul Labriola and Harry Raymond, two victims of the 19th ward feud, police announced today. They had been told by persons who overheard a conversation held by two men arrested yesterday as suspects. The two men, Frank Gambino and Sam Amatina, were positively identified by eye witnesses of the shooting of Labriola, police announced, one witness saying Gambino was the man who fired three bullets into Labriola's body after the first shot had struck him down.

Amatina did not fire any shots, police said, but his witness told them, he "stood passive as Gambino's side as the latter was making sure of the job."

Judge Hugo M. Friend postponed until tomorrow a petition for a writ of habeas corpus for the two held as suspects, declaring "We must give the police a reasonable time to conduct their investigations."

Detective Sergeant Patrick Alcock, a close friend of Labriola, walked home with him the night before Labriola was slain, he said, and was told of death threats. Labriola expected only a severe beating, Alcock said.

Railroad Strike In Mexico Is Called Off

MEXICO CITY, March 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The strike of workers on the Mexican railways, which began the middle of February, was settled today. Messages have been sent by the union leaders to the men's organizations throughout the republic calling off the strike and it is probable the men will return to their duties during the day.

CINCINNATI, O., March 16.—Miss Alice Dehshelmer, deficient at the Cincinnati City Tuberculosis Hospital, was killed when an automobile in which she was returning to the hospital, with a party of friends, overturned early today. Robert Montgomery, engineer at the branch hospital, who was driving the machine, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

Cabinet Members Aren't Always Serious

Left to right, seated, are Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of State Hughes, Vice President Coolidge and Secretary of the Navy Denby. Standing are Secretary of Interior Fall, Postmaster General Hays, Attorney General Daugherty, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of Labor Davis.

Most of the photos of President Harding's cabinet members, individually and collectively, show them in pretty serious moods. But there are moments when they lay aside their reserve, as the photo above shows. They are making the best of the delay while a small army of photographers and movie operators "get set" to photograph Harding and his official family, at their first session. President Harding carrying out his announced plan, has asked Vice President Coolidge to attend.

BRITAIN SIGNS TRADE PACT WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

LONDON, March 16.—The trade agreement under which commercial relations will be resumed by Great Britain was signed here this morning by representatives of the governments of the two countries.

The fact that the trade agreement was about to be signed revived in this morning's newspapers the controversy regarding the expediency of such a move. The Morning Post, in an editorial, captioned "The Uncertain Thing," vehemently inveighed against the agreement and argued that its signature would inevitably involve recognition of the Soviet regime, which is blackened by every crime and the agents of which are actively plotting the destruction of every civilized state.

"Under this agreement," the newspaper continued, "British traders eventually will become receivers of stolen goods."

The Chronicle on the other hand approved of the agreement on the ground that "the world can no longer afford to leave Russia outside the pale of commercial intercourse." The Daily News declared it expected trade with Soviet Russia would relieve unemployment in Great Britain, saying: "Talk about blood stained gold is the meaningless rhetoric of blind hatred."

Army Transport Badly Damaged In A Collision

NEW YORK, March 16.—The army transport Madavask, badly damaged when she collided in a dense fog last night with the shipping board steamship Inevitable, 18 miles off Barnegat, N. J., reported by wireless at daybreak that she had started under her own steam, for this port.

The coast guard cutter Gresham and the tugs Merrick and Resolute accompanied her, while the Inevitable, which apparently suffered little from the crash, proceeded to Norfolk.

The Madavask had planned to remove her passengers to the Inevitable at daybreak, but this was found to be unnecessary.

Springfield Back To Normal
SPRINGFIELD, O., March 16.—Springfield is back to normal, city officials announced today, and reiterated that they do not expect any recurrence of the racial disorders of last week when Patrolman Joseph Ryan was shot by a rioter. Officials feel that the racial feeling has spent itself, and that after several days of tense feeling the citizenship is anxious to resume its normal status.

Fishermen Accept Reduced Scale
PORT CLAYTON, O., March 16.—Union fishermen here have accepted the 1919 wage scale of $5 a day, and will go back to work today, after a two day strike. The men asked for the 1920 scale of $6 a day, which dealers asserted they could not pay.

Chicago Tenants Use Special Train To Visit Legislature

CHICAGO, March 16.—Hundreds of Chicago tenants assembled this morning and departed at nine o'clock in a special train to visit the state legislature at Springfield in advocacy of the Daily-Kessinger bill granting cities the right to set up rent commissions for reviewing cases where excessive rentals are alleged.

Several hats were filled with contributions at the mass meeting of tenants last night to pay the expense of the trip, and cheers greeted the announcement that the house had passed the Daily joint resolution providing for an investigation of a "plot" to keep up building costs.

"This meeting is an answer to the sneers of the Chicago rent hogs," said President J. R. Patterson, of the Chicago Tenants' Protective League. "Four hundred thousand American citizens who are tenants in Chicago are on the brink of the greatest crisis they have ever known," said the resolution read by Mr. Patterson, which was adopted.

The Lockwood commission in New York sent grafting building leaders to the penitentiary," he continued. "Building was started in New York and temporary legislation is protecting the tenants during the housing shortage. Why can't this be done in Chicago?"

The fact that the initiative comes from Europe reflects the United States in a sense of the embarrassment of approaching the European powers with a tale of defects in the present league and suggestions for a substitute. While Mr. Harding has certain ideas concerning an association of nations, he has had no way of knowing until he got into office whether those ideas would prove acceptable to Europe.

Few people believe that the Viviani visit will have an immediate effect. On the contrary, the expectation is that a conference of European statesmen will follow the return of Mr. Viviani, and that Europe will adopt a course of action after hearing directly or indirectly from the former premier just what is to be hoped for from the United States.

ARREST IN THE INDIANA MURDER MYSTERY

WARSAW, Ind., Mar. 16.—Formal charges of murder against Virgil Decker, aged 20, were made today by Prosecutor H. W. Graham. In charge of the investigation here of the death mystery of Leroy Lorell, of Elkhart, Ind., whose body first identified as that of Decker, was found Sunday on a railroad near here. Decker's half brother, Arthur, aged 16, also was arrested on the prosecutor's order.

Meanwhile, the investigation of the death mystery was continued at a half dozen scattered places in northern Indiana. Sheriff C. B. Moon was sent to Marion, Ind., to take custody of Virgil Decker, arrested last night and held for investigation. His half brother, Arthur, was held by the Elkhart police and also was to be returned here for investigation.

Mrs. Lydia Decker, mother of the youths, who was ordered held by Coroner N. B. Aspinwall, as a material witness, has been released and was said to have gone to the home of a son near Atwood. The corner's verdict was that Lorell had been murdered by unknown parties.

Awaiting the arrival of Sheriff Moon at Marion, Virgil Decker was submitted to a long examination by authorities, who said little information was obtained from him. When told the Warsaw sheriff had sent for him, the prisoner was quoted as saying:

"It appears that some one is trying to accuse me of taking some one out and killing him. I would not do anything like that."

Decker's explanation of his insurance—three $5,000 policies and one $5,000 with double indemnity in event of accidental death—was said to have been a statement that he wished to be well insured. The policies were made payable to Fred Decker, a brother.

Funeral services for Leroy Lorell, victim of the death mystery, will be held Friday from the home of his parents in Elkhart.

Golf Recommended By Daugherty
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—Appointment of Guy D. Goff, of Milwaukee, as an assistant attorney general, was recommended to President Harding today by Attorney General Daugherty. Mr. Goff was named for the shipping board as a recess appointee and before that was general counsel for the board.

Mr. Goff is a native of West Virginia and graduate of Harvard University.

TWENTY BILLION MARKS MUST BE PAID TO THE ALLIES BY FIRST OF MAY

PARIS, March 16.—(By the Associated Press)—The allied reparations commission, in its note to Germany demanding fulfillment of Article 235 of the peace treaty, notified the German government, it must pay one billion gold marks ($250,000,000) before March 23, it was announced today. The money must be deposited in the bank of France, bank of England, or the Federal Reserve bank in the United States, Germany was told.

It must complete the payment of twenty billion gold marks ($5,000,000,000) by May 1. The commission gave Germany until April 1 to submit a proposal to pay the balance of the twenty billion marks, otherwise than in cash.

Germany may submit a plan for a foreign loan by April, the proceeds of which shall be payable to the commission. The commission announced that Germany had virtually refused to pay the balance, asserting the 20,000,000,000 marks had been fully paid. (Continued on page two)

UNCONSCIOUS MANY HOURS FROM FUMES

LOUISVILLE, KY., March 16.—Miss Dorothy Smith, overcome by "natural gas fumes" more than 120 hours ago, was still unconscious early this morning, and her chance of recovery is slight, according to physicians, pneumonia having developed yesterday.

The girl with her room-mate, Miss Carolina Zurschmiede, were discovered in a gas filled room shortly before noon last Friday by their landlady. Both were unconscious at the time and have been unconscious since then.

Mrs. Zurschmiede, who is said to have a chance, is believed to be slowly regaining consciousness. A nurse at the hospital saw her slowly open her eyes yesterday and spoke to the young woman. She got no reply. "Close your eyes if you understand," the nurse said and the eyes were closed. "Now smile," Miss Zurschmiede was ordered. A faint smile came over her face. It was the first indication that her brain is functioning. And yet, physicians said, she is unconscious. Her brain is dead at times, physicians claim.

DISCOVERS MICROBE OF SLEEPING SICKNESS

LYRIC

TONIGHT ONLY

By Peter B. Kyne. Scenario by Marion Fairfax. Directed by James Cruze.

A rugged tale of the redwood slopes—of giants of the forest, of giants among men. In the vast scarred regions of the West, a simple world of love and sentiment meets a cruel world of money and power.

Then the grim clash of the lumber camps, with no quarter asked and no mercy given!

A picture of majestic power, of blood-stirring conflict, of tender appeal to the heart.

Wants To Vote On It

Portsmouth, Ohio, March 16, 1921.

Editor The Times:

As you have already contributed some space in your paper to a few scribbles in regard to the question of more daylight, I being a common laborer, sincerely hope you will be as liberal with me.

Now, I want it distinctly understood that I am not blowing someone else's trumpet, nor am I writing for the interest of any business or class of citizens, let him be merchant, manufacturer, or laboring man, but as an American citizen, believing in letting the majority rule and not the minority. Why not go about this question in a sensible and business-like way; let the city council pass a daylight savings ordinance, put it to a vote of the people. Then if the majority says they are in favor of more daylight, then let us have more daylight. On the other hand, if the ordinance is defeated, hush the matter up and forget about it. Come on you early birds; let us be sports.

Yours for a Square Deal,
B. WALKER.

Columbus Bank Employee Arrested

For Embezzlement

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—Edmund E. Fox, assistant cashier of the National Bank of Commerce was arrested here this morning on a warrant sworn out by officials of that bank charging him with embezzling $10,000, making false entries and converting bank money to his own use.

Phillip J. Schneider, president of the bank, issued a statement saying Fox is $124,000 short in his accounts, and that Fox has returned $24,000 of this amount.

Fox pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the federal grand jury under $10,000 bond. He was released on bail.

The bank announced that its loss is fully covered by surety bonds.

Fox, it was said, made private loans of bank money which could not be collected. He is married and has a child.

THOUSANDS THROG STREETS TO INSPECT SEASON'S LATEST CREATIONS; ANNOUNCE PRIZE WINNERS LATER

With the return of spring, the season of flowers, and pretty clothes, Portsmouth's annual Spring Dress-Up Week of Style Show which opened at 5:30 last evening is the pivotal point about which the thoughts of Portsmouth femininity revolve today. That there is a great deal of interest among male groups in the city is attested by hordes of men who are participating in the display.

On a scale of magnificence far beyond the dreams of the originators of the event several years ago the semi-annual Style Show known as Spring Dress-Up Week opened last night with the main streets thronged with crowds eager to view the very latest for ladies along with the new "modes" for the male groups. Fully 5,000 persons, not more than sixty per cent feminine, witnessed the opening, which proved to be one of the finest things ever undertaken by Portsmouth merchants.

The display is without a doubt the most beautiful display of wearing apparel yet offered for the inspection of the city, and it far exceeds the expectations of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce which had charge of all arrangements for the Spring show.

The window displays are very attractive and in them one can see more than a few hours work for the window artist. The attractive manner in which the latest styles in all lines are shown brought fulsome praise from the throng that filled the streets until the lights in the windows were turned out for the night. Beauty expressed in costuming, uniqueness in the arranging of the newest clothes, and other pleasing displays appeared amid elaborate decorations, which are the handsomest ever put in the windows of local stores.

Dress-Up Week is not only for the big department store but it has spread outside that circle until retail merchants in many other lines have taken up the idea. The men's clothing stores, shoe stores, jewelry stores, candy stores, furniture stores and other lines of business are all represented in the show this time.

The new styles abound in every type of garment as well as accessories and ornaments are shown in the latest creations from the fashion centers. With the Style Show made the convenient place for men and women to rather to examine the new styles in all lines and with a wealth of beautiful material from which to make a selection. Dress-Up Week coming as it does just prior to Easter when the chief thought of everyone is to dress up not only self but the home, gives promise of becoming the big event of the year, not only for merchants but the public as well.

No effort or expense was spared by the merchants in their efforts to present to the eyes of the public the best window but it was hard to select the best for they all are lovely and attractive.

The outstanding colors of the season seem to be blue and gray and with these the window artist used many other colors blending them in a manner that they could not help but be pleasing to the most critical eye.

The character of the displays, the painstaking work which has been done to accomplish it, the magnificent manner in which the opening was carried out, with every detail perfect reflects great credit on the mercantile establishments of Portsmouth and also to the Retailers Committee in charge.

The River City band was out in full uniform and played in front of the different stores all evening.

The judges name to award prizes to the best windows were out viewing them last night and will inspect them several more times this week. They will turn in their reports on Thursday and on Friday the result of the judges' work will be made known. First prize is $15, second prize $10, and three, $5 prizes.

Germany

The commission, in making its announcement, relates the history of the negotiations for fulfillment by Germany of Article 235. It is said the commission reminded Germany of her obligations on March 4, 1920, and that on June 15 "the commission insisted on knowing what liquid assets the German government could offer in payment of the twenty billion gold marks."

Germany, replying under date of June 23, announced she would forward later a demand that all deliveries of goods made by her be credited against the twenty-billion. This communication was received January 20, 1921, and the commission replied to it on February 26, notifying Germany that the credits against the account could hardly reach eight billion marks by May.

Furthermore, the commission asked Germany to suggest how she expected to pay the balance of twelve billion marks due. Germany in a letter of March 14, the announcement stated, "virtually refused this demand," declaring she considered she "had fulfilled her obligations under Article 235."

"Under these conditions," the announcement continued, "the commission notified the German government, first, to pay between now and May 1, 1921, the balance of the twenty billion gold marks, and, second, to make before March 23, 1921, a first payment of a billion gold marks to apply on the twelve billions remaining due. Before fixing the dates and methods of payment of further amounts the commission will consent to consider any proposals submitted before April 1, 1921, by the German government for substituting merchandise deliveries for the transference of German or foreign securities instead of payments in gold or foreign exchange. Within the same delay the German government has been authorized to submit to the commission proposals for the issuance of a foreign loan whose proceeds shall be paid to the commission."

Some time ago the commission announced that the allied claims for reparations had been forwarded to Berlin. The exact total of these claims has not been announced, but in usually well-informed quarters it is said they probably amount to approximately 550,000,000,000 marks, or, roughly, two and one-half times the figures fixed for indemnities by the Paris conference. Computation of the total reparations was difficult, chiefly because of the widely fluctuating exchange rates, as well as the vast task of checking claims and computing the pre-war values and transforming them into today's figures on falling markets.

BIG EAST END ROBBERY

No arrests have been made in connection with the robbery of the gent's furnishing store of L. F. Lemon and company, 2110 Gallia street, Monday night. The police say they have a good clue and hope to apprehend the guilty parties soon.

It is believed the burglars gained entrance to the store by the use of a skeleton key although a small pane of glass in a rear window was discovered smashed but the opening was not large enough to admit a man's body.

After helping themselves to the stock of trousers, shoes, hats, shirts, hosiery, and other wearing apparel, the burglars carried their loot into the basement where it was sorted the invaders being a bit fastidious in their selection, as they carried off only the very best articles. The thieves left by way of the basement door which they readily unlocked from the inside and carried the goods away in suit cases stolen from the place.

Proprietors of the store place a value of $200 on the goods taken.

JUDGE MAUCK RAISES IMPORTANT POINT IN DRY ENFORCEMENT LAW

Regarding the ruling of Judge Mauck of the Court of Appeals, that officers have no power for seizure of property under the Crable act in a private dwelling unless the dwelling is being used for the unlawful sale of intoxicants, the Irononian says:

Among the Court of Appeals decisions received here Monday were three covering errors prosecuted by three defendants in liquor and gambling cases.

In the case of James Murnahan against the state of Ohio, wherein the plaintiff in error was fined by Judge

Layne under the provisions of the Crable act, Judge Mauck made a ruling which demands the case back for resentencing. It being held that the lower court erred in not stipulating that jail sentence in default of payment of fine did not provide that such confinement was "until discharged by due process of law" and for the reason that no allowance was made for the 60 cents per day applicable to fines provided by law in case of a person serving a jail sentence. In connection with the case, Judge Mauck made the following interesting observation:

"Officers have no power and can receive none by search warrant under this act (Crable Act) for seizure of property of the kind described in the affidavit (Masi) so long as the same is in a private dwelling of the accused unless such private dwelling is being used for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor. Suspicion arises from reading the record herein that the rights of the accused were in the respect invaded. But the question is not sufficiently before the court, nor was it before the trial court."

"Stiller" Is Fined $1,000

Sylvester Clark, aged 27 years, 3360 Rhodes avenue, New Boston, who was arrested Tuesday night for violating the prohibition law following a raid on his home by Sheriff Riekey and other officers, pleaded guilty to charges of unlawfully possessing a still and with keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold when arraigned before Squire William M. Manes Wednesday. The magistrate assessed a fine of $1,000 against Clark in each case and in default of funds to pay up the defendant was remanded to jail.

The raid on the Clark home was made in pursuance of a search warrant and it resulted in the uncovering of a still of the milk can pattern, three gallons of low grade liquor and about 50 gallons of mash.

FIGHTERS FINED

The staging of a lively scrap by Dewey Adams and Ray Karg, two well known young men at Fifth and Chillicothe streets Tuesday afternoon, explained their presence in Municipal court Wednesday to meet charges of fighting.

The statements of the two defendants to the court disclosed that the trouble grew out of remarks addressed to Adams by Karg while the former was talking to some young women on the street a short time before.

Ohio Drys Plan To Nullify The Palmer Ruling

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—Enactment of an Ohio statute that would nullify in this state the ruling of Former United States Attorney General Palmer, which permits the prescription of beer as medicine, will be requested of the state legislature immediately by prohibition leaders.

James A. White, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, stated today that officials of the league and other dry leaders now are considering such a measure, but declared the discussion had not yet brought about a conclusion as to the scope of the measure.

He would not say whether the bill will seek to prohibit the prescription of only beer and wines or whether it would go even further and prohibit the prescription of all alcoholic liquors.

When the bill is finally drafted, it is understood that it probably will be introduced in the senate by Senator Burke, of Lorain county, chairman of the standing temperance committee, and rushed through as an emergency measure.

If this is accomplished, so far as concerned, it will make little difference whether Mr. Palmer's ruling stands, is withdrawn by Attorney General Daugherty, or the Volstead act is amended to prohibit the prescription of beer, dry leaders said.

New President For Cuba

HAVANA, March 16.—Dr. Alfredo Zayas Y. Alfonso was elected to the presidency of Cuba in the partial elections held yesterday.

In an interview today, the president-elect declared he expected to have sufficient support in the national congress to offset the threatened liberal congressional strike. He said he hoped to be able to form a government to take office May 20. No cabinet appointments have yet been decided by Dr. Zayas. He said he would endeavor to unite the members of the conservative and popular parties into a single group.

WOMAN SENT TO MARYSVILLE

Mrs. Fannie Turner, aged 20 years, picked up by the police for loitering and immoral conduct, was sentenced to the penitentiary for women at Marysville by Judge Johnson in Municipal court Wednesday, when she was taken to the prison by Miss Emma Handert, social welfare worker.

The police told the court that the woman had been in the city for several months and during the time had given the officers much trouble by her misconduct.

Mrs. Turner said her home was in Asheville, N. C., and that her husband would not work and abandoned her some weeks ago. She appealed for another chance, promising to get out of town but the court did not heed her plea.

"I have played the fool." What one of us hasn't? What one of us has not done things we have wished undone? What one of us has not done certain things against father or mother, or some loved one or friend that we would give all we possess to have undone?

With a forcefulness and power characteristic of his preaching, the Rev. N. E. Butler drove home to the hearts of the large congregation those words of Saul, spoken in I Samuel, 21st chapter and 26th verse. Those words seem to have a universal experience within their content. King Saul was in the grasp of one of the popular sins of the day, that of jealousy. The thankfulness of the people to David for what he had done aroused King Saul and he had started out to kill David. With a company of men he had searched the hills and when night came down he had gone to sleep with a pitcher of water and his sword at his head. During the night David crept into the camp and with his command went into the tent of King Saul. It would have been an easy matter to have taken the life of Saul, but David quietly withdrew with only the sword and the pitcher of water. Going to the opposite hill he awakened the camp of Saul, and when Saul came out and saw what David had done, when he realized the magnificent spirit of David, he cried out, "I have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly." He realized he was a guilty man, and that he was to blame for his own guilt. Occasionally a man will look his moral life in the face and realize his own self, and then he will condemn his actions.

No young man or young woman sits down and plans to become a drunkard or a harlot. Our young people become bad because they drift into it. But there is no human being upon the earth so bad but what there is some spark of goodness in his life. Jesus could see that spark in the human life when he called to the man up in the tree, the man considered to be the worst scamp in the community. "Come down, for today, I must abide at thy house." We have to believe there is some good in a life to make it respond. A noted scientist has said that sin is the occasion of a free moral agent who seizes the better clothes the worst. All men know the difference between right and wrong, and they ought to choose the right. Man becomes the sinner when he makes the conscious choice. We have to face the issue, each man for himself. We cannot always blame heredity and environment for sin, though there is some truth in the doctrine. Like produces like. Boys should be very careful in selecting their life partner and girls should be just as careful. The time to be careful is not three or four months after, but three or four months before they are married. There is no greater gift given by God than the gift of making the home.

Environment has a great deal to do with the moulding of the lives of children. We cannot expect a child who has never heard a word of prayer in the home to have a sense of God in his life, and many a child has been brought to the place where he has no use for Christianity because of the life of a parent. Men have become masters of environment and heredity and have changed their environment. Will power is the master of environment. "I am the master of my fate. I am the captain of my soul." Saul recognized he was at fault, recognized the sin was of his own choosing and that he had done wrong and when you make the last analysis you will make the same confession. The power of God in your life will enable you to overcome your heredity or environment and make you the master of your own lives. C. C. Bennett was the minute man and gave a splendid talk on matters pertaining to the home. Tonight Mr. Joe Carlin will be the minute man. Special music will be rendered, and the pastor will speak on the Home. Home night will be observed and it is requested that families sit in family groups as near as possible. Prayer service in the Sunday school class room of Mrs. McCurdy at 7:15, and the request is made that all remember the noon hour and pray wherever they may be. The music is a feature of the meetings, Miss Beatrice Stewart and Mr. Vaughn Finney being the special soloists of last evening. If you like to sing, come and enjoy the congregational singing; if you do not like to sing, come and hear the children.

Women Only to Hear Address

"The Virgin Mary—Or Some Lessons I Have Learned From the Mother of Jesus," will be the subject Thursday afternoon at a meeting for women only. This famous address has been delivered far and wide by Mrs. Demarest, and has never failed to enlist a most intense interest. Only women, and girls over 15 will be admitted to this meeting, which will begin at 3 p. m. If the attendance warrants, Mrs. Demarest will arrange other meetings for women next week.

Sure Relief

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

This is not only an opportunity the women of Portsmouth can hardly afford to miss, but it is also a stern duty, if they desire the evangelist should provide these additional services. The church will undoubtedly be crowded to capacity.

Tonight Mrs. Demarest presents a theme which promises to be very interesting: "The Devil's Menagerie." Again Mrs. Demarest will render an organ recital preceding the service. Those wishing to enjoy this should arrive well before 7 o'clock.

With Mr. Demarest at the organ and one of the accompanists at the piano, Mrs. Demarest is making the congregational singing one of the features of these union services. Last night the voices rolled out in a great volume of sound that managed to inspire numbers who were ordinarily afraid of the sound of their voices to really sing and enjoy it. The solo by Mr. Demarest, "I'm Believing and Rejoicing," by Herbert Booth, was most effective.

Mrs. Demarest chose a most effective subject for a sermon on sin: "Error of the Mind." Her treatment of the theme made sin to seem anything but that; and yet in her fine noble way of presenting the gospel, it was evident that she was far more interested in the practice of righteousness than the sordid details of the sins of the body. The effectiveness of her presentation was evident in the number that gathered in the inquiry room, as well as the deep spirit of heart-searching that pervaded the audience.

It is being taught today by Christian Science that sin is an error of the mind. They also teach that to be well in body we have only to deny that we are sick.

You will never find drunkards, outcasts, women of the street, become Christian Scientists. Unable to get us to deny the Savior, the devil is trying to lead us to deny sin—and then of course, it follows that if sin is not sin, the Savior is no Savior. No honest woman can deny the fact of sin, call it what you will. If a murderer is only a man with a disease, is there any doctor for that madly bad Jesus?

If Calvary proved anything, it proved how perfectly real sin was. "He was made sin for us, in whom there was no sin." The black agony of that moment of horror when he felt he was wrenched asunder from the bosom of the Father by the sin of the world, wringing the cry, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" killed the body of our Lord. No one can deny the reality of sin after Calvary.

There is no more awful disease than Leprosy. Its horrors produce one continued horror. In Jesus' day a Jew considered he did God a service if he stoned a leper. Leprosy is a true picture of sin in three striking ways: First—Leprosy has a small beginning. The little taint of sin, no less than leprosy takes away all joy and peace. Let children learn early enough that sin always means pain. What a mother lies to her child she strikes the first blow at faith. If they can't believe in their parents they can't believe in God. None of you has a conscience as sensitive as it was when you were a child. The leper with a spot the size of a pin's head is ever as much a leper as the one who is in the last stages. The little sin makes guilty of murder.

God does not condemn anyone for his sin; on'y for refusing to go to the only one who can cure sin. The second likeness between sin and leprosy is the way it spreads; the danger of contagion. Sin contaminates the same as leprosy. It manifests itself in the look of your eye, in the very cast of your countenance. Sin and spirituality are both contagious. One word—a look—is often enough.

Franklin Ave. M. E. Church
An increase in attendance was noted at last night's meeting. Tonight is Sunday school night and a large audience is expected. Every Sunday school scholar should be there to hear the Gospel message. Every teacher and officer of the school is expected to be present.

The services last night opened with a spirited song service, "Loyalty to Christ," "Sound the Battle Cry," "Sweetest Was the Day Goes By," and "I am Thine O Lord," were sung with wholeheartedness.

The Scripture Text, "With Thee I will be Whole," John 5th chapter 6th verse. The story of the sick man at the pool. People have been trying to cure the miraculous healing power of the "pool" it is the miracle of the "Christ."

These things were written by John that the world might believe, (the duty of Jesus Christ). We are responsible for our lives, and what we make them. Let God make our lives. Let Him have his way in our lives and we can obtain victory.

Visitors have come from afar for the great feast. Jesus was there—working first on the human will, then the life. That is his purpose. To make our lives whole. Who does not want to be made whole?

Who are the spiritually made whole? Those who have been washed in the Blood. Whose sins have been blotted out. Of the many who have no desire to be made whole. Portsmouth is full of them. Lying around our church pools. No spiritual appetites, no desires.

O, poor wretched man, poor, blind and naked with soul not only sick but dead—whosever calleth upon His name and cometh to the Pool of Bethesda will be made whole. All through the ages men were trying to find a cure for sin but finally gave up in despair.

Someone must come to rid the world of sin in the heart and life. We get redemption through Him, who died on Calvary Cross.

Who is ever ready and willing to help even on the Sabbath Day? His motto was: "Do It Now." The man at the pool was afflicted for 38 years, but there was no cure but from the Divine Healer. Many a person has wandered in sin for 38 years—but he may obtain help and can be made whole now.

First Baptist Church
"Prayer changes things." This has been proven during our meetings. The Tuesday morning prayer meeting was one of the greatest blessing and power and proved a mighty stimulus for the days work to those who were calling at various bottles.

Last evening people began to gather long before the opening hour. A rousing song and testimony service preceded the appropriate anthem sung by the choir, "The Love That Seeks."

The pastor took his text from Ex. 3:1-10. Subject being "The Call of Moses, or the power of turning aside from a lawful occupation."

He emphasized the fact that it was not only real sin, but sometimes things which in themselves were not sinful, which became a hindrance to our hearing the voice of God and knowing Him in His fullness.

It was a lawful occupation for Moses to care for the sheep of his father-in-law, but if he would have become a great sin had he refused to stop at the burning bush when God called, we must be careful that our business life and household duties which are lawful in themselves do not monopolize our time and thus rob God and his church.

It was in taking time to turn aside that Moses received a precious revelation, first a revelation of God's character, "I am the God of thy Father," and when he heard these words he hid his face. What men need today is to see the holiness of God that these may have revealed to them a true stimulus of their own hearts; then they will soon with faith "Woe is me for I am undone because I am a man of unclean lips and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips for mine eyes have seen the King the Lord of Hosts."

Thus led to the second step in Moses' experience a revelation of God's sympathetic interest. "I have surely known the affliction of my people," God knows the sorrow and hears the cry of this groaning world, the great need is to make the church to the feet.

And the third step, a revelation of God's saving purpose, "I have come down to deliver them." Our great task is to make the world to know that God came down in Christ to save them, and if this is to be accomplished we must take time at this house to come apart from the busy cares of life and see that the Lord has the pre-eminence. Four souls made a decision for Christ. Special solo will be sung this evening by Miss Mervie Graham, "The Land where the Roses Never Fade."

COURT HOUSE

Will Contest Case To Be Heard
The petit jury will be required to come back for service in Common Pleas court at 9 a. m. on Tuesday, March 22, when the case of William Tipton and others against Camilla Kline is assigned to come to trial.

This action was brought to contest the will of Nancy Tipton, mother of plaintiffs and defendants, who died Feb. 6, 1920, leaving under her will admitted to probate, the bulk of her estate valued at $2,600. To the defendant and cutting off the other heirs without anything.

The contestants allege the will admitted to probate is not the last will of the decedent, and on that ground seek to set it aside.

Attorneys George W. Sheppard and A. Z. Blair for plaintiffs and Attorney B. F. Kimble for the proponent of the will.

Special Venue For Neal Case

A special venire of jurors to try the case of the State vs. John Neal, New Boston man, charged with rape upon Flossie Truitt, 12-year-old New Boston girl, last October, was selected Wednesday by Judge Thomas and notices were sent out requiring the attendance of the jurors in court next Monday, when the case will go to trial for the second time. The former hearing resulted in a mistrial through the failure of the jury to reach an agreement.

The new venire is composed of these men: Frank Schumann, George J. Schmidt, Charles D. Scudder, John Hasenauer, John Jones, John Linck, M. H. Shumway, Frank Dever, A. G. Dunn, Firman Smith, Adam Sommer, J. P. Capehart, J. E. Starlin, L. W. Baker, Evan Vandervort, Frank M. Vigus and Henry Uhl, Jr.

Mrs. Haldeman Left Big Estate

L. P. Haldeman has been appointed by probate court to administer the estate of his late mother, Augusta C. Haldeman, who died Feb. 4, 1921, at her home in this city, leaving an estate valued at $135,100.00 all of which is represented by real estate except $2100 in personalty.

Leaves Property to Husband

Under the will of Rosa Andris, who died recently at her home in this city, admitted to probate Tuesday, she leaves all of her property to her husband, William J. Andris, and he was appointed her executor. The will was executed Feb. 4, 1914.

Transcript Filed

A transcript from the docket of Squire C. H. Walden, Scitoville, in the case of The Leet Lumber company against Paul Figgis was filed in the office of the clerk of courts Wednesday.

Wife Seeks Divorce

Alleging adultery and infidelity and naming one Little Workman as co-respondent, Veneva Johnson now living temporarily at Huntington, seeks a divorce and alimony with the custody of their only child aged 11 years, in an action filed in Common Pleas court against Robert Johnson, 2046 Gallia street, whom she married June 21, 1905, at Chillicothe.

Through Attorney Miller and Searl she complains that Johnson refused to support her and claims he had her sent to an asylum in 1914 and refused to make arrangements for receiving her after her recovery. She says the defendant is the owner of three lots at East Portsmouth.

Suit for Specific Performance

An action for specific performance of contract in connection with the alleged sale of their farm of 62 acres situated in Franklin township, Adams county, T. J. Swisshelm and Ida Swisshelm, of near Peebles, against J. L. Wamsley. The plaintiff claim Wamsley agreed to pay them $12,500 for the farm and now complain he has refused and still refuses to go through with his part of the deal.

Through Attorneys Blair and Blair the plaintiffs ask the court to require Wamsley to pay over the money.

Account in Pierson Estate

The first and final account of the estate of her late husband, Theophilus Pierson, who died some months ago, filed in probate court today shows receipts of $127,664.82 and disbursements of $105,894.34 leaving a balance of $21,770.48 due the estate which has been paid to the widow, legatee for life, under the terms of the will of the decedent.

A Musical Meditation

Under the able direction of Mrs. J. M. Stockham, rehearsals of St. John's choir, "The Crucifixion," are in progress at All Saints' Church. This famous composition is "A Meditation on the Sacred Passion of the Holy Redeemer," and was written to be sung on Good Friday by the great organist of St. Paul's Cathedral, London. It is unique in that it affords an opportunity to the congregation to take part in its rendition by joining in the singing of hymns of adoration and intercession addressed to the Crucified one. The singing of "The Crucifixion" is a task far beyond the capacity of the average church choir and solo voices capable of do-

"BABY" VICTOIRE HAS HER OWN ATTRACTION

One of the strongest appeals of Mrs. Demarest, the woman evangelist, who is now entering upon her second week in the union services at the First Presbyterian church, is to motherhood. Her nine-months old baby girl being in frequent evidence at the meetings. When the baby was exactly three weeks old, Mrs. Demarest preached in Chicago, and since then has almost continuously been preaching in various cities. "Baby Victoire" accompanying her mother. Up to the present the baby has attended several hundred meetings and traveled at least six thousand miles. In the care of the baby Mrs. Demarest has had to violate almost all rules, and most mothers would have despaired long since. This mother, however, prayed before baby's birth that it should be a healthy baby, and that it would not in any way hinder the mother's active work for Christ. In evangelistic campaigns. So "Baby Victoire" has evidenced the power of prayer, and she has never been sick a moment in her life. She has been admired by thousands, and her picture is already in hundreds of homes. However, Mrs. Demarest strongly believes in adhering to the laws of nature. She leaves baby to herself, and does not permit any handling or fussing over her. Plenty of fresh air and regular feeding are essential, so baby has kept in the open air, even in zero weather, and has her bottle at the regular four hour interval. Little Victoire is the first great-grand child of General William Booth to be presented to an American audience. This was at Huntington last December, where she received, as might be expected, a great ovation. To all such adoration she simply smiles away, utterly content when there are plenty of people near her, and quite unimpressed. In December, Mrs. Demarest and baby's picture appeared in the Louisville papers with an article about a "Guaranteed-never-to-cry-in-church Baby," and since then a reproduction of picture and article has been sent Mrs. Demarest from various places throughout the country, and even from Newfoundland, having been taken up prominently by the Associated Press.

Minstrel Big Success

A success in every sense of the word was the home talent minstrel given Monday night in the New Boston high school auditorium by the George A. Ditty Camp, W. O. W. of New Boston. The show was witnessed by a fair-sized audience. Proof that the show was pleasing to everyone was given in the hearty applause given the various members of the cast for their efforts. The show staged under the capable management of James Cooper, was one of the best home talent entertainments given. The chorus singing was a big surprise to all, the various numbers, being delivered in a manner that showed the men had trained faithfully for their parts. The comedy acts of the sparkling variety and always brought applause. The big feature of the show was the act of Birtium and Ray, comedians, singers, extraordinary. The lodge made a neat sum on the entertainment.

Easter FOOTWEAR.

There is every advantage to be gained by buying your Easter footwear now instead of waiting until a day or two before Easter. Right now our stocks are complete. It is, however, hard to determine several months in advance just what are going to be the most popular styles at Easter time. Consequently our stock of gray footwear is not so large as it would be had we known of the immense popularity that would be created for this shade. Of course, we have them in goodly numbers now but they are going fast and they are extremely hard to secure. Brown and blue run a close second, with black, as always, a favorite.

- GRAY STRAP SUEDE SLIPPERS, a beautiful model, very attractive and desirable, with French heels and turned soles, at $11.95.
- SUEDE STRAP SLIPPERS IN BROWN AND BLACK, ornaments on straps, turned soles, very new and popular, at $11.95.
- PARISIAN ANKLETTE SLIPPERS, blue suede, 3 straps, just the thing for a blue suit, and are right now the height of fashion.
- INSTEP STRAP SLIPPERS OF BROWN KID, with Cuban heels and welt soles. Fine for street wear. Price $8.95.
- SELBY'S ARCH PRESERVER OXFORDS, queen of all walking shoes, in brown and black kid, dressy lasts, at $9.75 to $10.50.

MISS DOLLY WISE

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell us who or what, is or was, Il Trovatore.

THANKS.

Il Trovatore is an opera in four acts; words by Cammarano, the story being suggested by a Spanish drama of the same name; music by Verdi. First produced at Rome in 1853; Paris, 1854; London, 1855; New York, 1855. The scene is laid in Sicily and Aragon in the fifteenth century.

Many years previous to the opening of the story, the mother of Azucena, an old gypsy, had been buried as a witch by the father of the present Count di Luna, and Azucena, to revenge her mother's death, stole the young brother of the count and brought him up as her son under the name of Manrico. He becomes a troubadour and gains the love of Leonora, who is also beloved by the count.

In Act I, the rival suitors in an effort to see Leonora, meet and a duel takes place, but Manrico generously spares the Count's life. Act II opens in the Gypsy camp, where Manrico under the care of Azucena, is recovering from a recent wound. He learns that Leonora, thinking him dead, is about to take the veil, and that the Count intends to abduct her. He hastens to her and in an encounter in the convent, Leonora is rescued. In the third act, the lovers are about to be united but Manrico suddenly learns that Azucena is in the power of the count and is about to be burned, and in his attempt to release her, is also captured by di Luna (the count). In the last act, Leonora, to save Manrico, offers to wed the Count, but takes poison as soon as the order of release is signed. Discovering this, the Count orders Manrico to instant execution, but just as the troubadour dies, the Gypsy, Azucena, reveals to di Luna that he has killed his own brother.

A FRIEND.

James M. Dawson was probate judge and John C. Miller was prosecuting attorney.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 21 and going with a boy younger than me. We are talking about getting married. Now, Dolly, do you think that six months in ages makes much difference? Do you think it would be foolish for us to be married the way work is? He only makes enough to pay his board and have a little spending money. He works every day and I do too. I believe if work was good, he would try to make a living for me. Please answer, as my mother is dead and I am homeless.

RUTH.

Considering the present condition of affairs why don't you wait for a few months before being married. Probably in that time you both may be able to save enough to begin house-keeping for yourselves. It would be better to keep house by one or two rooms and be to yourselves than to have to live with other families. If the boy is capable of making a living and is steady in his habits, I think the few months difference in your ages would make no difference in your home life. You could continue working after your marriage to help along.

Meet me at Nye's Fountain.

Your Manners

IT IS CORRECT

To secure a partner before sending in an entry for the doubles in a tennis tournament match.

To write your address, telephone number and the name of your club on your entry.

For a spectator to wait until the set is finished before leaving one court to watch the game at another. For the spectators to wait until points have been played out before applauding them.

IT IS NOT CORRECT

To applaud errors in the play.

To applaud when your player has gained an advantage through a net ball, or one out of court.

To call instructions to the players or umpire while the game is on.

For the spectators to voice disapproval of the decision of the umpire.

To talk to the linesmen during a game.

SOCIETY

The delightful spring weather, full of the fragrance of blossoming flowers, afforded an ideal day for the reception entertained in the home of Mrs. S. B. Timmonds and Miss Marie Ware on Second street.

Mrs. Timmonds charmingly received the guests as they arrived and in her delightful manner announced the engagement of Miss Ware, her niece, and daughter of Mr. W. H. Ware, to Mr. Ralph Marting, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Marting of Sunnyside. The guests were then greeted by Miss Ware, to whom their sincere well-wishes were extended.

Southern smiles in graceful fashions, together with baskets of sweet hyacinths and daffodils, lent their beauty to the adornment of the rooms in which the guests passed a few delightful moments, before being invited to the dining-room by Misses Helen Dunn and Helen Radin, who were attractively attired in becoming spring costumes. Misses Elizabeth Guler and Virginia Alger pinned the favors, which were dainty corsage bouquets, while, throughout the afternoon sweet victrola music was furnished and refreshing fruit nectar was served by Mrs. Albert Marting and Miss Virginia Alger.

The dining-table was lovely with the simple center decoration, a basket of American Beauties. Here, amid the lovely spring-time decorations, beautiful less in Easter-bly motifs, coupled with dainty cakes, candles and nuts, were served.

The guest list for the charming affair numbered: Mesdames Walter Head, Paul Williams, Evan Williams, Rea Selby, J. W. Danon, D. E. Taylor, George Breece, Eric Ferguson, Albert Marling, Charles Mitchell, W. G. Williams, John E. Williams, L. C. Turley, Harry C. Bugh, I. H. Goodman, Howard Newman, Frank Marting, Lorin Hitchcock, James Williams, Alan N. Jordan, James Hager, D. L. White, Misses Virginia Alger, Bess Turley, Katherine Appel, Katharine Hall, Helen Dunn, Helen Radin, Margaret Legler, Lena and Edna Haneck, Charlotte and Doris Dufay, Dorothy Wright, Elizabeth Guler, Helen Scott, Margaret Werz, Grace Hughes, Emma Johnson, Helen Scott, Helen Haldeman, Ruth Pile, Mary Davidson and Edith Hudson.

The engagement of Miss Ware and Mr. Marting, both very prominent in the younger circles, will terminate in an early summer wedding.

On Tuesday evening, at the home of Miss Florence Daehler on Eighth street, the members of the K. K. K. Club were told of the betrothal of Miss Evelyn Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Reed of Seventh street, to Dr. Calvin Fox, a young surgeon of prominence in Philadelphia, and a member of the Jefferson Hospital staff.

The guests assembled, presumably for the regular meeting, but upon being ushered into the dining-room were kept guessing as to the happy secret until tiny notes were discovered attached to bluebird cards found at each place. These little mementoes of happiness bore the names, Fox-Reed and the date, May, 1921. The table was a bower of loveliness, blue and white predominating in the decorations used. Dainty fingers had arranged the refreshment table most artistically, the centerpiece being a tiny house, with a small bird-pod on either end of the table. Around this were keeplee dolls dressed in blue frocks and hats, led by a keeplee bride standing at the place of the bride-elect. Above the table were suspended bluebirds, large and small. The honor-guest's favor was a dainty guest-room utility bouquet fashioned of organic flowers of various colors. Small blue baskets of nuts, topped with a nosegay of forget-me-nots, were the favors for the guests who were served with ices, cakes and minis. Covers were laid for Mrs. Clayton Bennett, Mrs. Gordon Townsend, Mrs. Robert Townsend, Mrs. Joseph Balaban, Mrs. Vaughn Plumer, Misses Evelyn Reed, Mildred Purland, Mabel Knost, Alta Marsh, Ruth Klugman and the hostess.

Miss Reed is a young woman of charming attainments and is admired by a host of friends. Dr. Fox is a specialist of eye, ear, nose and throat surgery and is a lecturer in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia. The marriage of this young couple will be one of the notable events in spring activities in the city.

In honor of Miss Evelyn Reed, Mrs. P. J. Kline and Mrs. E. T. Reed will receive their friends very informally Saturday afternoon, March 19, from two until half after four o'clock, in Mrs. Kline's home on Fourth street. No other invitation will be issued except through the papers. It is hoped that the church friends, members of the Canton and Clubs and all other friends will consider themselves personally invited.

Mrs. L. W. Crookshanks of Grandview avenue is home from Washington, D. C., where she was called by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. C. C. Hayes, who is now much improved.

The meeting of the Bigelow Children's Mission Band will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Robert Fuller, 505 Offshore street. The members will receive their Easter greetings at this time.

BILLY WHISKER

At Violet's news, Billy kicked up his heels, twisted his body around and went on like mad.

"Why! what is the matter, Billy? You act as if you were crazy. Don't you want to be driven by anyone but me? Is that what you are trying to make me understand?"

The knowing goat hopped his head up and down to tell her that she had guessed right.

"But you see, Billy, I can't drive before all those people in a big ring where there are lots of other goat carts. How would you like it if I had a nice white boy, Farmer Woodward's son, drive you?"

To this suggestion Billy made no fuss.

"I suppose he is prejudiced against colored boys," thought Violet to herself, but out loud she said, "Billy, aren't you ashamed of yourself to make such a fuss against a nice little colored boy? For my part, I would prefer one to a white boy, for I think as a rule, they are kinder to animals."

"Maybe they are," thought Billy, "but when they are dressed up in their jockey suits they look so much like monkeys (which I detest) that I simply can't stand them, and I know if one of them drove me I should run away, upset the cart, and do all sorts of mischief."

"Come on, Shep, let's go and see the men build the new chicken house where they are going to shut up the fowls they intend to fatten for the fair. As for the piggies, I don't see how they can put on another pound of flesh and not have their hides burst, for they are already so fat they can scarcely walk, and when they lie down they grunt as if it hurt them."

As they were walking across the barnyard, Shep spied something small and dark running ahead of him, and he immediately gave chase. Through the yard they went, then into the clover field and still farther, Violet could see them going until they reached the plowed field beyond, and then she saw them stop suddenly, while Shep turned and came running back, carrying something in his mouth.

"What can it be?" thought Violet as she sat on the top rail of the fence, where she had climbed to get a better view. "Oh, my! it looks like a rat. What is he bringing it back here for? But no, when he got nearer she could see that it had white and brown stripes. 'Shep, what in the world have you caught?' and she climbed down from the fence to take it from him, when she saw that it was a baby wild rabbit that he was carrying. By the neck, just as cats carry their kittens. Away she ran to find John to ask him to make a pen for it, while she held it huddled close to her neck to keep it warm, and also, that it might not feel frightened, for these little rabbits are very timid.

On her way to find John she met Peter, one of the hired men who had been plowing, and he called Violet to come and see what he had in his hat. "It is something you have been wishing for," he said as he came within speaking distance.

(Tomorrow you will find out what Peter had in his hat.)

Her Own Career

(BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS)

A SECOND HOMECOMING

Gwendolyn, with the help of Celeste, soon had the apartment put to rights, and with its polishing and new cushions, plus vases of gar flowers, the studio looked a veritable bower.

"It's all beautiful, but somehow or other, the old place lacks something, is it SO?"

"One day after a hard three hours spent in decorating and refurbishing, 'Maybe it's Fern that I lack?' I don't just know exactly."

The scent of the hyacinths in rows at the window came surging to her where she lay on the divan, dreaming of the days gone by and the future. Two weeks had passed since her arrival in New York. The two weeks were filled with much bustling and merry-making, for the old gang had been on hand to welcome her, the very first evening and had lived on her doorstep ever since. Several parties had been given by one and the other of the girls, and Gwendolyn had fallen quickly back into the old ways again. To her delight she found herself quite a little queen in this crowd, much as Fern had been before her. It was all inspiring after all.

Only that morning she had received a long letter from John Neale—written upon his arrival in London, and filled with a glowing account of his trip over, the gay times on the boat, and the flirtation he had been busily carrying on with a dark-eyed French girl all the way over.

The J. A. to O. R. Co. will hold the social meeting Thursday evening in Brady's Hall. At 6:30 dinner will be served to the members and families.

The Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' Church will meet for the last Lenten sewing meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Anna Ross on Court street.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Jewish Congregation will hold a bake-sale Friday, March 18, beginning at 1 o'clock, at the Lewis Furniture store.

Mr. and Mrs. Wert Shoop and Mrs. Hugh Hudson and daughters, Dorothy and Katherine of Washington, C. U. will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Kline of Fourth street this week.

Mrs. Walter Stenger and son, Richard, of Third street, are visiting relatives in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Peter Lehn of 1835 Robinson avenue entertained Monday afternoon honoring her mother, Mrs. B. F. Armstrong's seventy-fourth birthday anniversary. The dining room was beautifully decorated in spring flowers for the occasion, and ices and cake in-plink and yellow were served at the table, the center of which was occupied by the big cake bearing seventy-four candles. The guests were entertained with a delightful program of music by Misses Helen Thissen and Louise Bernthold. Mrs. Lehn was assisted in serving by Mrs. Ben Fugitt. Cottage Prayer Meetings Were Well Attended

Everything is in readiness for the eight day revival that will start at the First Christian church on next Sunday morning which will be known as "Decision Day." That the members are awake to the possibilities of the revival is shown by the fact that the cottage prayer meetings, held in fifteen homes Tuesday evening were largely attended and much enthusiasm manifested.

This (Wednesday) evening, prayer services will be held at the church. The meeting will be conducted by Rev. Charles R. Oakley and the entire membership of the church is invited. The services will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock and will be concluded in exactly one hour.

The following cottage prayer meetings are scheduled for Thursday evening. The leaders, whose names appear in the list are asked to provide song books which may be secured at the church this evening:

Mrs. Shirley Price, 114 Scioto St., leader L. E. Murphy; Mrs. Louella Baker, 415 Offshore St., leader George Edwards; Mrs. E. N. Hill 1024 Gallia St., leader, Chas. Brock; Mrs. A. P. BACKACHE OF WOMEN

The back is often called the mainspring of a woman's life. What can she do, where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps every particle of her strength and ambition? She cannot walk, she cannot stand, her household is a burden, or the long hours behind the counter, in the office or factory are crushing. She is miserable. The cause is many times some derangement of her system, and backache is a common symptom. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable remedy for backache, as for more than forty years it has been relieving women of America from ailments which often cause it—adv.

AINT IT A GRAND AND GLO RIOUS FEELING — BY BRIGGS

How Much Tobacco Will My Heart Stand

A Question Vital to Every Man Who Smokes or Chews

IT MAY COST A PRECIOUS LIFE TO FIND OUT BY EXPERIMENT.

The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights a losing battle for its life. When it loses he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine wins, it passes through many stages of decline and decay and suffers many pangs. Heart is like human beings—some are stronger than others, therefore, some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who takes this additional strain on his heart, at a definite time, by smoking cigars, pipes or chewing tobacco, is taking a madman's chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he may not lose them. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of his health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results. But the thought of giving up is unpleasant to most men—even to those who know that tobacco injures and that it is really quit takes more will-power than they have, and causes more suffering than they can voluntarily endure. To quit the habit make it easy.

for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed. The habit really quits you, and its departure is a pleasure equal to its indulgence. If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it, go twenty-four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you, then begin using it as usual and take a Nicotol tablet. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day, and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished, and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure to quit.

Note: Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to cure the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time, and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold, before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including Flood & Blake—Adv.

Viviani Coming To America

The league of nations with Mr. Harding, the deepest interest has been exhibited by the British in what may be accomplished by M. Viviani. The former premier was one of the brilliant figures of the Geneva meeting of the assembly of the league of nations and is regarded in Europe as one of the ablest of its champions. It was largely through the efforts of M. Viviani as liquid of the French delegation at Geneva, and Arthur Hays Sulzberger, of Great Britain, that a decision was reached to postpone changes in the covenant until the new administration had come into power at Washington.

M. Viviani, like other Frenchmen, cannot understand why Mr. Harding believes the present league of nations is a super-state or why it "surrenders sovereignty" because the French themselves insist that they would never surrender their sovereignty to anybody either. The discussion between M. Viviani and the American government will be largely an explanation of the actual operation of the league and an attempt to discover just what changes the United States would like to have made to clarify the covenant.

But the Viviani mission is predicated on the idea that the present treaty and league must be the framework of any new association. The French decline to believe reports from America that the United States wishes to "scrap" the league or the Versailles treaty. It soon proves to be easy M. Viviani will advise Europe and an entirely different policy will be followed by Europe in her relations to the United States. Diplomats here believe that the allied powers are vitally interested in preventing any separate peace between the United States and Germany because of its effect on the Germans, who already are seeking closer cooperation with America as a means of weakening the moral force of the allies. In a nutshell M. Viviani will point out the disadvantages to America of deserting the allies and making a separate peace with Germany and will ask that the United States indicate the character of reservations wanted in the peace treaty. With a few changes, it is known, for instance, that Europe would accept the League of Nations but any plan that means the dropping of the treaty which took so many months to prepare and which the Germans and allies have all signed will prove unacceptable to the French. To reopen the treaty means renewed controversies and the allies are having trouble enough enforcing the Versailles treaty. They do not want another prolonged negotiation with Germany or more occasions for friction among themselves.

While in Washington, M. Viviani will have an opportunity to confer with Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, who has just returned from a conference with prime minister Lloyd George and who knows exactly how far the British government is willing to go toward modifying the present league of nations. In truth, Europe is coming to America to parley, believing that the present league and treaty is a good basis for international understanding but not necessarily a perfect instrument. Europe is willing to make certain changes. If America wishes to scrap the whole thing and start afresh, Europe will decline to go any further and America will be compelled to adopt a policy of isolation. The prediction is freely made that a middle ground will be found, namely, the modification of the present league of nations but the preservation of the treaty and framework of the covenant.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Fermentations, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried persin, pepsin, carbochol drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble. In some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bismarck Magnesia. The ordinary commercial Bismarck Magnesia, which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bismarck Magnesia immediately after a meal you can eat almost anything without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the Bismarck Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion. — Adv.

NEW BOSTON

The marriage of Miss Edna Boyer Redden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Redden of Stanton Avenue, to Mr. Horace Booth of Mann, W. Va., took place yesterday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. C. A. Hughes, of the M. E. church. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Booth, of Ironton, were here for the wedding.

In co-operation with the plans of the ministers' conference of Portsmouth and vicinity, a group meeting will be held in the New-Boston M. E. church on the afternoon of Good Friday. The church at the Terminal, the Ohio Avenue Christian, the Immanuel Baptist, the Cedar Street Christian, the Berean Baptist, the Scotoville M. E. and the Scotoville Christian churches are to join in this meeting. Rev. Robert Allbaugh will be the speaker.

Mrs. Carl Jenkins of Monroe street entertained Tuesday afternoon Mrs. J. H. Caudley, Mrs. John Kachetries, Mrs. Chester Staten and Mrs. Lawry Sloan.

Rev. C. A. Hughes of the M. E. church led the devotion and addressed the Glenwood school at chapel Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Mae Perry and son, Dewey, are now at home at 3305 Rhodes avenue. They formerly lived on Seventh street.

The Boy Scouts of Troop No. 1 of the Baptist church, with Assistant Scoutmaster Sapp in charge, held an enthusiastic meeting in the church last evening and plans were started for some real work.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Emmert and children were the dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John McDaniel of Front street, Portsmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldrige and Orville Brown spent Sunday with Mr. Brown's grandmother, Mrs. Mose Ligon, of Olway, who is seriously ill.

Allen Cottle of Rhodes avenue is ill with the grip.

Tracy Miles of Gallia avenue is confined to his home with the grip. Ethel Hancock of Stevensville is very ill.

Miss Mary Griffin of Portsmouth met with the W. W. G. Girls of the Baptist church in the home of Mr.

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

Says Indigestion Results From An Excess of Hydrochloric Acid

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. This everything enters, soars in the stomach much like garbage sores in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescent and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.—Adv.

and Mrs. Louis Sizemore of Spruce street last evening. There was a good crowd of enthusiastic young ladies present. Mrs. Laura Sloan will have charge. Mrs. Thomas Albrecht was a guest of the evening.

Immanuel Baptist Notes

Special revival and evangelistic meetings begin at the church this evening. The pastor will be his own evangelist and the congregation will furnish the music. The topic for this evening will be "Our Treasure." The time is 7:15. Every one in New Boston and vicinity is invited to attend and enjoy these meetings. They will continue until Easter.

The people of New Boston and vicinity are requested to read the splendid messages in the advertisements made possible by the business men of Portsmouth and which appear daily in the Morning Sun and Portsmouth Times. The facts found there are worthy of our closest consideration.

A missionary conference of the Portsmouth Association churches is to be held in the Immanuel church in the early part of April. Local and state speakers will be present. An afternoon and evening program will be given.

At the South magnetic pole, which is a long way from the geographical South pole, a compass needle suspended so as to swing in a vertical plane, dips until it reaches a vertical position with the south end downward. An ordinary compass needle suspended so as to swing horizontally only becomes slightly near the poles, the magnetic force of the earth tending to pull one end of the needle down, instead of making the needle swing.

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

He Is Looking 'Em Over Again

"Eight years of stomach and liver trouble reduced me to a walking skeleton. My skin was dried up and as yellow as a twenty-dollar gold piece. I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctors' medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised May's Wonderful Remedy, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man and am looking 'em over again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Flood and Blake, Fishers and Stretch and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Threats Made

Asked regarding any statement the defendant may have made concerning a will left by Hamon, Blair said he brought up the subject and that Clara said she believed there was a will and that it was being kept hidden until after she might be tried.

Blair asserted the young woman had in substance said what he had reported.

S. Prince Freeling, state attorney general, in charge of the prosecution, offered as part of the trial record a newspaper containing the interview obtained by Blair. The defense objected, however, and was sustained.

For more than an hour on the stand yesterday, Clara Hamon related the events of the day and the evening when Hamon was shot, and there followed a four hour cross-examination by state's attorneys.

"The gun went off as it fell or I pulled the trigger, or something, as he hit me," she said, in explaining the firing of her little automatic pistol and broke into tears as she told how Hamon had shown her the widening spot of blood on his right chest where the bullet struck him.

To most of the questions under cross-examination she answered she did not know or did not remember.

Hamon beat her, kicked her, twisted the flesh on her wrists and searched his pockets for a knife, saying "I will cut your throat," the defendant said describing the struggle, which culminated in the shooting. "He was drunk, and crazier than I ever saw him before," she added.

"I hated him and loved him at the same time," she said in reply to a question on cross-examination, but "love, decidedly," was the stronger passion.

Little Use to Growl.

When things go wrong it is natural to grow disgruntled, but getting disgruntled doesn't get us anywhere. A regular man will try everlastingly to do his share to set things right.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—2 billion look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

Is Rheumatism Really Incurable?

Disdirected Treatment Will Make You Think So

Rheumatism is a very insidious disease. In fact, its pains may hardly be noticed at first. But they become more frequent, and gradually increase in severity, and before you hardly realize it, you are firmly in the grip of a disease that may make you helpless.

First of all, you must realize that Rheumatism's pains are not on the surface, and cannot be rubbed away. Then you will discard the liniment bottle, and seek the source of the disease.

Many forms of Rheumatism are due to a tiny germ in the blood, which multiplies by the million and spreads its pain to different parts of the body.

When you realize the logic of this conclusion, you will see that you are really wasting your time and money if you are expecting any permanent relief from the use of liniments, lotions, and other locally applied treatment, which can only reach the surface and have no effect whatever upon the origin of your trouble.

Any disease should be treated at its source, and especially one that causes as much suffering as Rheumatism. For what you want is not mere temporary relief from the torturing pangs of pain, which will promptly return with renewed severity. The only treatment worth while is one that will show some progress toward getting at the source of the disease and freeing the victim from its shackles.

Judge Stephenson Hears Lentz Divorce Case

Judge W. P. Stephenson, of Adams county, well known here, is holding court in Columbus this week, by special assignment, to hear the divorce case of John J. Lentz vs. Alta F. Lentz. Mr. Lentz is president of the American Insurance Union and has made a number of addresses in Portsmouth. Evidence in the case is of a sensational character.

The one point that the medical profession has agreed upon, is that some forms of rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, which multiplies by the million, and until these germs are routed from the blood, you can see how futile local treatment will be. In fact, you can rub with liniments and use lotions by the gallon and never hope to reach the cause of your trouble.

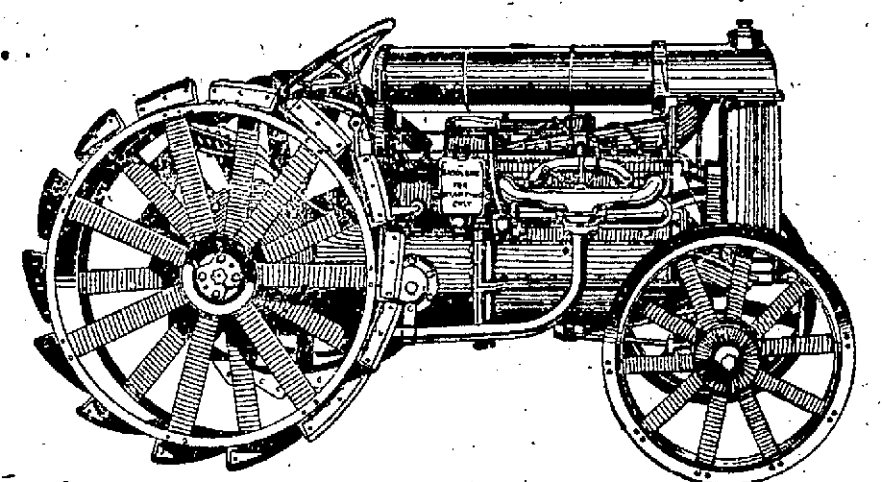

So many people have found real permanent relief from their rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. that its use is justified in practically every case. Certainly if your rheumatism is due to a germ in the blood, as so many thousands of cases are, you should lose no time in beginning the use of S. S. S. because you can rely upon this fine old blood remedy to do you more good than any other treatment.

S. S. S. is beneficial in rheumatism because it is such a thorough blood-medicine. It cleanses the blood of all impurities, and eradicates the germs which cause rheumatism. The wonderful results it has accomplished in other cases is proof of its great merit. S. S. S. has been on the market for more than fifty years, and is sold by all druggists.

S. S. S. is the logical treatment for Rheumatism because it purifies the blood and eliminates the disease germs.

You are invited to write our medical department for valuable literature and advice about the treatment of your own case, for which no charge is made. Address: Chief Medical Adviser, 37 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia. — (Adv.)

Take heed and keep yourselves from all covetousness, for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesseth.

Across The Counter

This is a talk on salesmanship, addressed to the men and women of Portsmouth who earn their living serving others from 'behind the counter.' The persons they serve may also look—if they read it all!

Here is a secret you have been looking for ever since you learned that some persons sell more goods than you do.

The secret of big sales records is this: Personality. Perhaps you know this—but read on. How do we get pleasing personalities?

When you buy in other stores there are some persons there you like to trade with, and others you rather avoid.

If you should question those whom you like to do business with, those whose sales slips show largest totals, you would find most of them are putting into practice consciously the principles of Jesus of Nazareth.

He taught patience in time of trial, kindness always, eagerness to serve. The biggest businesses of the world are founded on these principles. The salesperson in the humblest capacity will help the firm best, and the world as well, to say nothing of himself or herself, by following the same laws.

Pleasing personality comes from thought about one's conduct and habit of restraint when tired and inclined to be irritable. Thought is unseen. It is eternal. When you link your life with an eternal principle you help yourself.

Believe Christ; follow His teachings. To do so means more joy for you now and hereafter, and a better world for everybody. Tell any pastor that you want to try the Jesus way.

Death of a Prominent Citizen.
The whole city was much shocked to hear of the death of John Adams on Monday afternoon at Holzer Hospital, Gallipolis. Although it was well known he had gone there to be operated on, it was hoped he would be able to successfully undergo the operation. The body was brought to his home here at noon Tuesday. As yet the funeral arrangements have not been made, but will probably be held on Thursday. Mr. Adams was a man about 50 years of age and had been a prominent insurance man for years, always interested in his town and one of the men ready to do his part for the best interests of it. He was one of the elders of the Christian church and ever a leader in the cause of this church.

A series of meetings began in the Methodist church on Sunday night. Rev. W. H. Mitchell, father of the pastor, preached on Monday night. On Thursday night the men of the church will hold a banquet and be addressed by E. Dow Bancroft of Columbus. The Ladies Aid Society will serve the banquet. All men of the community are invited.

Miss Tressa Kyer has moved from Church street to the corner of Locust and Water streets.

Mrs. L. E. Ridgeway of Port Wayne, Ind., arrived Monday evening for a few days visit with her mother, Mrs. Mark Sternberger, South street.

H. R. Shaffer and daughter, Margaret, spent Monday in Gallipolis. They went to see Mr. Adams and were there when he passed away.

Frank Stephenson of Stephenson is visiting his brother, Ira Stephenson.

Mrs. Frank Marcus of Columbus came on Monday to spend a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hurd.

Avoid Diphtheria

A sore throat is a good breeding place for Diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can wisely depend upon TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give Diphtheria a chance in that throat in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by Diphtheria germs. Keep TONSILINE in the house where you can get it quick when needed. 35c., 60c. and $1.00.

Test Case Is Sequel To Fox Drive Staged In Pike County

CHILLICOTHE, O., Mar. 15.—A. R. Plummer, of Waverly, who, with others is alleged to have participated in a recent fox drive at Denver, this county today was arraigned charged with having hunted foxes out of season.

Plummer pleaded not guilty and was released on $100 bond to appear for sentence next Monday.

On Washington's Birthday Dr. Geo. (Doc) Nye, of Waverly, former state legislator and a band of farmers, opposed to fox drives, rode down upon the line of hunters and broke through it permitting foxes rounded up in the chase to escape.

This test case is expected to decide whether fox drives violate state game laws or whether farmers are within their rights in handling together to rid their land of foxes.

Rev. Townsend Suffers Broken Arm In Fall

IRONTON, March, 16.—Rev. E. B. Townsend, pastor of the First Presbyterian church sustained a broken and fractured wrist Tuesday evening when he tripped over a small wagon in the dark which had been left at the foot of the steps of the pastor's home at 513 Fourth and Railroad streets by his young son who had been playing with the dog.

Rev. Townsend was taken to the Marting hospital where it was ascertained that the same bone which was broken was also fractured and another bone of the wrist also fractured.

Conductor Davis Badly Hurt

Eugene Davis, aged 35, a well known conductor on the Lexington division of the C. & O., suffered the loss of his left leg and his right leg was badly crushed Tuesday afternoon, when he fell off the pilot of an engine he attempted to board at Shelby, Ky., about 75 miles south of Ashland. He was placed on an engine and rushed to the King's Daughters' Hospital in Ashland. There it was stated Wednesday that Davis rested fairly well last night under the circumstances, and he probably will recover. Ernest and George Davis, brothers, arrived in Ashland almost at the same time the injured man did, and they spent the night with him. Davis says that his foot slipped as he tried to get on the pilot of the engine and he would have been ground to pieces had he not swerved his body to one side. He is married and lives up Big Sandy. He is a son of Captain G. W. Davis of Pullerton, who has been sojourning in Florida, since December 13, last.

ILL HEALTH OFTEN DUE TO NEGLECT OF KIDNEYS AND LIVER

Many organs take part in assimilation of food, and a number are active in eliminating those portions of the food which are not taken into the blood for the upbuilding of the body. Of the eliminative organs, the liver and kidneys are of major importance, and are most likely to be overworked and become diseased. When such is the case, various troubles of a digestive and eliminative character occur, and such troubles are so frequent and so common that it is absolutely necessary to find some relief. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy was compounded over 40 years ago to help equalize the work of both kidneys and liver. How successful it has been is evidenced by its wide-spread sale and its value is attested by an immense number of appreciative users who through these many years have put it to the severest tests with the most satisfactory results.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy contains no harmful ingredients and should be used when the kidneys need attention. Sold by Warner's Drug Store and all leading druggists. Sample sent on receipt of ten cents. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy Co., Dept. 505, Rochester, N. Y.—adv.

Extract From An Address Given By J. B. Jones, of the Petroleum Engineering Company of Kansas
City, Mo., Before the American Mining Congress
At St. Louis, Mo., In Speaking of the Quality of the Refined Products of Shale Oil.

"After obtaining 50 per cent gasoline, our residue, after taking off the light oil, is a very superior lubricating oil. It is too long to go into long technical tests, but the oils have been tested by many laboratories and the 'Bureau of Standards' in Washington, and their records on these oils for motor and lubricating qualities are superior to the same record of oils made from petroleum, i. e., oils with the same fire, flash and viscosity tests. The lubricating oils as it comes from the still without treatment give 60 per cent of the crude oil in a lubricating stock or an oil suitable for all kinds of lubricating purposes. Shale oil will produce a beautiful spindle oil, light or heavy motor oil and greases equal to the best petroleum and, so far as our records show, superior to the best petroleum oils for lubricating oils."—Adv.

Descriptions of the Above Garments

SUIT

Style No. 1804

Extremely smart lines, excellent workmanship, and a fine quality of tricotine make this semi-tailored model unusually distinctive and very practical. The open seams give a novel trimming, the belt fastens with a buckle. There are side pockets and a full silk lining.

SUIT

Style No. 1781

Braid binds the edges of the open bands, giving a smart and unusual finish to the back and sides of this distinctive suit. The collar is attractive, the belt is doubled across the front. Full lined in silk. Developed in tricotine.

SUIT

Style No. 1701

Much grace is given to a youthful figure by the smart simplicity of the trim tailored lines and the chic, rippled effect of the jacket, cleverly finished in back with buttons and hand embroidered erotes. Of tricotine, full lined in silk.

SUIT

Style No. 1797

This distinctive suit is given a charming trimming by attractively stitching the ripple effect in a unique design, and suggesting side panels by using long rows of buttons. It is full lined in silk. Developed in tricotine.

SUIT

Style No. 1814

Exclusive in appearance, the smart simplicity of this attractive box model is given a novel touch by closing the front with a buckle and finishing the skirt with blusters of tucks at the sides. Of tricotine, silk lined.

SUIT

Style No. 1721

Contrasting touches of color in the buttons and beads, neat braid bindings, and a long collar that forms a tie give touches of individuality to this jaunty tricotine model. The back is slightly bloused and is finished with a string tie. Silk lined.

SUIT

Style No. 1784

As clever as it is unusual, the back of this distinctive model features flaring insets of the material, finished with heavy stitching. The collar and sleeves are also attractively trimmed with the stitching. There are side pockets. Silk lined, of tricotine.

Says Son Was Fined For Being Tired And Sleepy

Mrs. Anna Schwable, Rhodes avenue, New Boston, mother of Harold Schwable, who was arrested by New Boston officers early Sunday morning on a drunk and disorderly charge, denies that the young man was guilty of such charges and claims that he was asleep in his machine, the result of a hard night's work at the steel plant, and adds that the machine was on the driveway in the yard and not in the alley, as claimed by the arresting officers.

Mrs. Schwable says that her son, who only has one hand, was unable to unlock the garage door, and after calling to her to come and open the door, fell asleep. The mother says that a neighbor who knows the young man is a hard worker, notified the police that he was drunk. Mrs. Schwable says that her son was taken out of his car in his own yard and was fined $10 for being tired and sleepy.

Mrs. Ellison Just Dreaded To See Night

"Anyone suffering from the after effects of the flu can't do better than take Tanlac, for I have tried it, and know from experience," said Mrs. Ella Ellison, 1372 Malasia St., Akron, O. "The flu left me in a badly run-down weakened condition, and instead of regaining my strength, like I thought I should, I kept losing it. I had no appetite, and after meals I suffered a great deal from gas and heartburn. I was so nervous I scarcely ever slept any, often hearing the clock strike over hour of the night and just dreading to see night come. I just had that tired, worn-out feeling all the time, and finally because so bad I could hardly walk around in the house. In fact, my condition made me miserable."

"But it is certainly remarkable how Tanlac restored my health in such a short time. My appetite is so keen I can hardly get enough to eat. I enjoy my food as I haven't in a long time and everything agrees with me perfectly. I have only taken three bottles of Tanlac and, besides gaining ten pounds in weight, I am now so strong that it is a pleasure to do my work. My nerves are steady, my sleep sound and refreshing and I feel better in every way than I did before I had the flu. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Strech Pharmacy and by the leading druggists in every town.

How Do You Feel— When You Stoop?

Slow and sluggish movements, tired action, backache, rheumatic pains, stiff joints or sore muscles indicate that something in the human system is out of order. In most cases, these symptoms are the result of waste matter or poisonous acids being left in the blood by the failure of the kidneys to properly do their work of filtering and casting out impurities from the blood.

STOPPED HIS BACKACHE
"I am 70 years old. I tried Foley Kidney Pills, thinking I needed them—as my back was hurting and aching all the time. I got so bad that when I would stoop over in the store while at work I could hardly raise up such an awful catch in my back. After taking just one bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, my backache was entirely gone and I felt good and strong. I think they are the greatest remedy for backache and irregularities of the bladder."—W. F. Tatum, R. F. D. 1, Washington, Pa.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS
have been used by young, middle-aged and old with complete satisfaction. You will find them different from all other remedies. They act quickly and surely and have given relief in cases of years' standing. If you have cause to suspect your kidneys are weak, disordered or inactive, you should act immediately.

SOLD BY
The Fisher and Strech Pharmacy

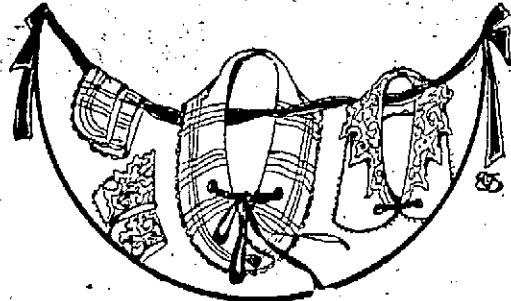

The biggest kind of a surprise was sprung on Volley Ball fans last night when the lowly Standard Supply turned out and smote the Excelsiors for two out of three games at the high school gym by the scores of 21-20, 21-19 and 21-8.

This defeat leaves the Excelsiors the High School Faculty, the Invincibles and the Bear Cats closely bunched, with only three games between them and it will be a pretty contest to see who is on the top of the heap at the end of the season.

The lineups were:
Standard Supply—Al Kendall, Capt. Doll Smith, Connell, Ruggles and Bryant.

Excelsiors—Earl Rardin, Gowdy, Egbert, Barber, Frazier, Ross.

Three regular first class volley ball games were played last night at the Wilhelmetto hall between the Wolves and the Beacrats. Both played such pretty ball that it was a shame that one had to lose. The Beacrats missed the ball up regularly to the Selby as often as he was at net and he killed it repeatedly. But some Wolf would generally rescue it and keep the battle

Brighten up the Suit or Dress with Attractive Neckwear

Newly arrived styles in Neckwear, arrived yesterday noon, just in time for their initial showing during Dress Up Week. And when you see this showing you will say that Fashion was in a festive Mood when she decreed that everything in women's apparel should be frilly this season, even Neckwear. We are showing many lovely styles for Spring that are bound to be popular with fastidious femininity, there are collars and collar and cuff sets of net, also the ever popular georgette, in round, square or rolled styles—not saying a word about the many charming creations of organdy and lawn, also vestees made up with collar to match. ALL PRICES.

New Gloves

The fashionable long glove, originated to accompany the new short sleeve, is worn this season even beneath the long coat sleeve or with the flared sleeve of the Eton; and with the primly cuffed tulle it is equally chic.

In shades to blend with the new suit or gown. Plain styles, also contrasting embroidery back stitchings. Many other styles in gloves with long cuffs and strap wrists, are the charming mode for Spring. Many women call them "gauntlets", in silk and kid, in all the best suit and gown shades. ALL PRICES.

Great Showing of Easter Ribbons

Now is the time when "decorations" are in the vogue, so designers bestow the "Order of the Ribbon" on many a frock and gown, to wind its piquant way through the whimsical world of feminine fashions, and ribbons plain and ribbons fancy, girdle waist lines high or low, droop fetchingly, with fluttering ends, from a tilting hat brim or sit pertly on its crown, to make for utter fascination and bewilderment. Hardly a hat or blouse or gown but has its complement of sash or tie or bow of fetching coyness.

Handbags—All Shapes, Sizes and Colors

Spring ushers in the newest and most attractive display of handbags we have ever shown. Styles are unusually attractive and colors rather smart—all of which are in harmony with the most authentic creations for spring wear. You will find it difficult to resist purchasing a bag at the prices they are marked.

Many Other New Spring Items

Jewelry, Handkerchiefs, Hair Ornaments, Windsor Ties, Silk Umbrellas, Artificial Flowers that are being worn as corsage bouquets. Toilet articles, etc., first floor.

Do not fail to see our showing of imported hosiery.

Famous Buffalo Germans Here Friday Night

On Friday night of this week the basketball fans of Portsmouth will witness the world's champion basketball team in action.

"The Buffalo Germans" have a record that has not been equaled by any other club in the world. Having organized in 1895 this club has played together for the past twenty-six seasons. In that time, they have won over seven hundred games and lost only seventy. This is a remarkable record considering that the "Germans" only play the best clubs in the country. The personnel of the "Buffalo Germans" consists of players well up in years. Four of the present members range around forty years, while the others are around the thirty mark.

"The Germans" so far this year have made an enviable record, their notable victory being the game played last Monday night at Akron, Ohio, between the crack Goodyear team and the Germans, the latter emerging victorious, 26 to 25. The following night the Germans defeated Geneva, Ohio, 65 to 21.

The crack "Select" team of this city will be the team to meet the world's champions here. The locals have only been defeated once this year, with thirteen victories to their credit.

The tickets for the game are selling rapidly, there being only a few reserve seats left. Orders for tickets have come in from Ironton, Brooksville, Ky., Winchester, Peabodys and Manchester, Ohio, besides the immediate towns. Anyone wishing reserved seats will have to get them at once.

Independent Packers Are Curtailing Operations

CHICAGO, March 16.—While international officers of the unions involved in the packers' wage controversy were assembling here for a conference today, it was learned that eight independent packing companies, in or near the main stock yards here, have closed down or greatly reduced their forces, throwing nearly 2,000 men out of work.

"We want to see how the labor controversy is going to come out," said Patrick Brennan, president of the Independent Packing Company, the largest of the eight companies. "We would be affected by a strike. When conditions warrant it we will open up again."

Heads of some of the other companies declared the present price of live hogs and the low price of the slaughtered product have made operations unprofitable just now.

Two men are to be chosen at the conference today to represent the employees at a conference in Washington, March 21, with two representatives of the packers and Secretary of Labor Davis. Two representatives were designated by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to represent him at the conference.

Delegates from the allied unions involved in the packers' wage controversy also planned to attend the conference to discuss their attitude in case a strike is voted by the butcher workmen.

IRONTON STREET RAILWAY WINS FIGHT

IRONTON, March 15.—The street railway won its fight for an increase in fares on the Ironton branch in a decision received here today from the court of appeals, holding that the petition filed by mayor Thomas L. Collett, asking for a referendum on the franchise ordinance, passed by the city council, providing for such an increase.

The action was taken to the court of appeals, following a hearing in the common pleas court, in which the local court held the referendum petition invalid. An injunction was secured by Mayor Collett, preventing the increase from becoming effective until the case be disposed of by the courts.

The case was styled the Ohio Valley Electric Railway Company vs. Eugene Haggarety, city auditor of the city of Ironton.

The opinion of the court was a lengthy one, and covered the case in detail, citing parallel cases at length. The mayor's referendum petition was held invalid and insufficient because accompanying affidavit did not show that the signers signed same with full knowledge of its contents, that this provision is jurisdictional, that the petition cannot be upheld by extrinsic evidence, that the court has no power to hear such evidence and that the prayer of the petition of the Ohio Valley Electric Railway Company is therefore granted.

THE MONTROSE

Most women are particular about the heels on their shoes; and I'm just as particular to see that the right height of heel is put on each shoe, and not only that, but also to see that each foot has the heel that fits the arch.

In offering you the Montrose I give you one of the best balanced ex-fords to heels, too style and shoe goodness I have—made of Cuban brown calf skin, light welled soles and leather heels—usually priced at twelve-fifty in most stores—my price figured on this spring cost is eight-fifty.

Selby's Bowling League

The Champs are determined they will not let any team beat them out of the pennant in the Selby Bowling League and to put force behind their aspirations they took three games last night from the Electric who judging by the scores made have lost all their power and shock. The Electric were defeated from their main switchboard in the first game making a total of 667 while the Champs were hanging up a high total of 909. The second game was more like a contest but the third was almost a repetition of the first game. Bauer and Reinhard were the big men for the Champs making the high scores that put their team way

Griffith Is Indicted

MOONSVILLE, Va., March 16.—The Marshall county grand jury Tuesday afternoon indicted W. G. (Holly) Griffith for the murder of Henry Lewis, a fellow-convict in the West Virginia penitentiary. Lewis was slain when Griffith, in escaping from the prison last January was opposed by his fellow-convict. Griffith in his flight down the Ohio river is alleged to have murdered Ira Roush of Mason county, and he has been indicted by the grand jury of that county for the crime. The question of Mason county's jurisdiction over the Griffith case is now pending in the state supreme court.

Boy Scouts Will Enjoy Fine Hike

GROCERS APPROVE NEW BY-LAWS

During the week of the spring vacation, the Boy Scouts will enjoy a hike to Carter's Caves with their Scout Executive. The Scouts will gather at Scout Headquarters, at Fifth and Court Sts. at 8:00 o'clock on Monday morning, March 21, for inspection. Their uniforms, packs, shoes, blankets and food will be inspected carefully, to see that each Scout is supplied with what he should have. Each Scout must have a rubber blanket, poncho, or some piece of rubber cloth to lay at night between himself and the ground to keep the dampness out. In addition, each must bring two blankets, or a blanket and a quilt, food enough for three days must be in his pack, but he can

Formerly games were a recreation, a mere pleasant exercise full of fun, forgotten the moment they were ended. Now they have become an intensive training more intensive in many cases, than the training in mathematics, languages, and the other arts and sciences formerly regarded as the chief purpose of institutions of learning. Is this a wholesome condition?

We doubt it. When the athletic man or field is of first interest in a school, letters and learning sink to low levels. We are living in an era of educational reaction, in which school and college honors for scholarship yield to athletic exploits done under the unwholesome, stimulating of public an-
